PROPOSED TO ADD TO LIST OF DEAD

McManigal Was Commissioned to Destroy Times' Auxiliary Plant

FOUND IT TOO WELL GUARDED

Confessed Dynamiter Testifies Second Explosion in Los Angeles Was Planned to Avert Suspicion from McNamara.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21.—Equipped with 12 quarts of nitro-glycerine, Ortie E. McManigal, confessed dynamiter, in December, 1910, went to Los Angeles, Cal., commissioned to destroy the Times auxiliary plant and by "adding a few more to the list of dead" to take suspicion off James B. McNamara, who had killed 21 persons in the wreck of the Times building two months before.

McManigal so testified today at the trial of the 45 alleged dynamite conspirators against labor employers of non-union labor. He named men other than the McNamaras as having inspired the second Los Angeles dynamite plot. He said he was prevented from carrying it out by the discovery, on reaching Los Angeles, that the auxiliary plant was too well guarded and illuminated at night. Instead he set a bomb in the iron works plant to explode on Christmas day. That was the "Christmas present" Olaf A. Tveitmoe, a labor union official in San Francisco had asked for.

McManigal and James B. McNamara had been hiding in the Wisconsin woods, McManigal said, like a pair of pirates, each with a red handkerchief about his head, in conformity with the game laws and a rifle over his shoulder when a number of detectives appeared at their lodging house. Eluding the detectives they came to Indianapolis.

So elated was John J. McNamara over the escape of his brother that he proposed that McManigal start at once for Los Angeles to do some dynamiting.

James B. McNamara said he would like to go out and do it, but J. J. objected", said McManigal. J. J. said they were looking for a man of his description on the coast and it would be a good idea for a stranger to do the jobs and get back East as soon as possible, and then the authorities would think their man was still in Los Angeles."

Then McManigal quoted directions he said J. J. McNamara gave him.

"I left Indianapolis with 12 quarts of nitro-glycerine December 9th. Four days later I arrived in Los Angeles and had buried the explosive in a gravel pit near the river. I looked over the three places I was to blow up and saw that all but the Llewellyn Iron Works were too heavily guarded. On Christmas eve, going into the Llewellyn grounds a dynamite cap exploded and injured my hand. That put me out of humor. So I placed the 12 quarts all in one spot and set it for 2 o'clock the next morning. Then I went to San Francisco and called at the labor temple there.

"When I reached Indianapolis in January, John J. McNamara, his brother and I met in a closed room at the iron workers headquarters. John J. McNamara was all ruffled up because I had not done more damage. He said I have spent too much money to do so little damage.

"Then he asked me how conditions were on the Pacific coast and whether they had forgotten about the Times explosion. I told him they certainly had not, for everybody was looking for that big reward. James B. McNamara thought if he could keep under cover for five years the Times explosion would be forgotten.

"The dynamiting jobs were to go right on, only hereafter dynamite was to be used instead of nitro-glycerine, as it was more effective. John J. McNamara then told me of a proposal to send bombs by express to non-union contractors. I told him that would not be right for you never could tell who would open the packages and they might explode on the train. He replied he did not care about that.

"I went to Tiffin, Ohio, and began to steal dynamite from a stone quarry at Bloomsville, Ohio, and store it in a shed at the rear of my father's house at Tiffin. I stole three or four hundred pounds and on taking some of it to Indianapolis, it was arranged for J. B. McNamara to help me carry it all here. The idea was that to steal the explosive was better than to buy it, for then no records were kept."

McManigal told of a conversation with Herbert S. Hockin, in which it was proposed to get rid of Miss Mary C. Dye, McNamara's stenographer, at the union headquarters, because she "knew too much."

Gibraltar, Nov. 21.—The United States cruisers Tennessee and Montana arrived here this afternoon. They are coaling preparatory to proceeding to Turkish waters for the protection of American citizens in the Ottoman Empire.

Joseph G. Robin Testifies Former New York Chamberlain Forced Northern Bank to Loan Carnegie Co. $130,000.

New York, Nov. 21.—Joseph G. Robin testified at the trial of former City Chamberlain H. Hyde today that Hyde by his control of city deposits, forced the Northern Bank to loan the Carnegie Trust Company $130,000 when the latter institution was about to collapse in 1910. Robin, himself found guilty of grand larceny in connection with the wrecking of the Northern Bank, and who has been in the Tombs for several months awaiting sentence, is the State's principal witness against Hyde, charged with accepting a bribe as a public officer.

Although Hyde's counsel moved for quashing the indictment on the ground that no crime was charged because it was not shown that the city chamberlain benefitted by his alleged actions, Justice Goff reserved decision until the State's case was closed.

District Attorney Whitman answered this point by asserting he "would trace $13,500 of the Carnegie Trust Company's money into Hyde's pocket."

Robin said William J. Cummins and J. B. Reichman introduced him to Hyde in the latter's office on the evening of August 22nd, 1910. Hyde explained that the trust company needed $150,000 and asked Robin to help "the boys." When Robin demurred Hyde referred to the city deposits in Robin's bank and declared that if the necessary aid was not forthcoming he would draw out this money the next day. Robin's story continued:

"Then said Mr. Hyde, 'I'll tell you what I'll do. If you will do what we want I will give you deposits in the same amount as the loans that you will make. Leave it to me, and if you loan these boys half a million dollars I will give you that much in city funds."

Robin testified to calling a meeting of the executive committee of the Northern Bank the next morning, when he told the committee that if it loaned the trust company the money Mr. Hyde had promised to materially increase the city deposits. The committee agreed to make the loan.

With the cross examinations court adjourned until tomorrow.

ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY.

Mutilated Body of Frank Bentley Found in Shallow Grave.

Warsaw, N. Y., Nov. 21.—The mutilated body of Frank Bentley, 25 years old, foreman in a cheese factory at Union Corners, was found today in a shallow grave on a farm near the village of North Java. Alhos Prince, 35 years old, a farmer and neighbor of Bentley, and Louis and Harry Webber, Prince's brothers-in-law, are held tonight by the sheriff in connection with the crime. Prince, who is a married man, admits, according to the sheriff, that he had had some words with Bentley over domestic affairs, but denies all knowledge of his death.

On Saturday afternoon Bently told Mrs. Alonzo Hicks, with whom he boarded, that he was going hunting. When he failed to appear at his work Monday morning and inquiries failed to disclose his whereabouts, parties were organized and a systematic search of the woods was begun. Yesterday afternoon on the Woodhouse farm, the searchers found blood spattered leaves and a pool of blood. There was a deep track also apparently made by a wheelbarrow that evidently had carried a heavy load.

The sheriff, after questioning Prince, ordered him checked up and seized a wheelbarrow and a pair of overalls found in Prince's barn. They were covered with red stains. Today searchers followed buggy tracks from a lot on Prince's farm to a clump of woods where under a pile of brush they found a newly made grave, in which Bentley's body had been buried. Both legs had been chopped off just below the hips. Every particle of clothing had been burned off and portions of the body were scarred and blistered. The nose was also broken and there was a deep wound over the right eye, all apparently made with some blunt instrument.

BRYAN AT SAVANNAH

Dines With McCombs—Refuses to Answer Questions

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 21.—William Jennings Bryan and William McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, denied her together today at the home of Pleasant A. Stovall, a life-long friend of President-elect Woodrow Wilson.

Colonel Bryan would neither deny nor affirm that he met Mr. McCombs for a conference. He declared that he had made enough denials recently in regard to the rumors concerning the next cabinet.

Mr. McCombs was equally non-communicative in regard to the meeting.

With reference to rumors concerning the possibility of his appointment to a cabinet office, he said: "It would not be modest for me to discuss myself in connection with a place in the cabinet."

Mr. McCombs expects to leave tomorrow night for Atlanta enroute to New York. Colonel and Mrs. Bryan probably will depart for Miami, Fla., tomorrow where they will spend the Winter.

DROWNING OF MRS. SZABO RE-ENACTED

Alleged Death Scene is Illustreated by Defense at Gibson Trial

TEN WITNESSES ARE HEARD

Defense Scores In Introduction of Testimony—Mrs. Gibson Will Testify She Knew of Her Husband's Relations

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 21.—An attendant lay on the Court House floor this afternoon at the trial of Burton W. Gibson for the murder of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Zabo and with judge, jury and counsel grouped around him, re-enacted an alleged scene for the jury of July 16th, in which Mrs. Zabo lost her life at Greenwood Lake. Bending over him, Thomas Garrison, a fisherman summoned as a witness for the defense, illustrated how he had taken the woman's body from the water. He showed that he had left the body outstretched with the head pressed downward, the chin resting almost on the breast.

Through this illustration the defense hopes to upset the State's entire contention that the organs of the dead woman's throat were forced out of position by strangulation. Medical experts are prepared to testify tomorrow that Garrison's treatment of the body was sufficient to have forced the tongue, palate and windpipe into the position in which the State claims they were found at the autopsy.

Garrison was one of 10 witnesses put on by the defense today. He testified that he had seen Gibson and his companion in the boat and that they had seemed to jump out He thought they were swimming and paid no further attention to them.

"Were they together when they jumped?" asked Robert H. Elder, Gibson's counsel.

"No, they were three or four feet apart."

Harry Laux, an electrical engineer of New York, swore that Gibson and the woman did not struggle before the boat upset. They were standing up when Laux saw them and they were four feet or more apart. They jumped out, apparently. Laux thought they were diving. This testimony contradicts that given by John Minturn, State's witness, who said that Gibson seized his companion around the neck before they fell into the water.

Three occupants of the motor launch Torpedo, which rescued Gibson, swore he was exhausted when taken out of the water.

"Do not mind me," he shouted, while in the water, these witnesses testified. "Where is the lady? Do something for the lady."

John Minturn's testimony was attacked by Henry Heink, son of Mme. Schumann-Heink, who swore Minturn told him that he was so far away from the accident that he could not see what was going on.

Mrs. Gibson may take the stand tomorrow to testify that she knew of her husband's relations with Mrs. Szabo. Gibson himself may possibly take the stand, but indications were that he would not. The defense expects to complete its case during the afternoon and adjournment will be taken until Monday, when counsel will sum up.

TALKS ON CITY BUILDING

How Australia Secured Site for Capital—Ottowa's Efforts

Washington, Nov. 21.—The method by which Australia secured the site of its proposed new capital city, for less than the site of a single parliament building would have cost in Sydney, was retold before the American Civic Association's conference on city planning today by Walter B. Griffin, of Chicago, winner of the $8,000 prize given by Australia for a design for the city it is to build.

The island continent fixed a standard of value under which no land could be purchased at a value higher than that at which it was held before the law was passed for the building of the new city. Australia will build its new capital "from the ground up," said Mr. Griffin, whose address was part of the "symposium on capital cities" held by the Civic Association this afternoon.

Henry B. F. MacFarland, formerly commissioner of the District of Columbia, urged that the entire country take an interest in seeing that the city of Washington is developed as an ideal capital city. The efforts of Ottawa, Canada, to develop along sound lines of progress as a dominion capital were outlined before the convention by Mayor Charles Hopewell, of that city.

Paris, Nov. 21.—France today notified the Turkish government she would hold Turkey responsible for any violence against Christians and asked the Ottoman government to adopt rigid measures to prevent any outbreaks.

PRETTY TYPIST BREAKS DOWN

Grilling Cross-Examination Proves too Much for Miss Cecilia Farley, Who Makes Damaging Admission—Enacts Tragedy

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 21.—Both the State and defense completed the introduction of evidence today in the first degree murder trial of Miss Cecelia Farley, the pretty State House stenographer, who is charged with shooting Alvin E. Zollinger, an advertising solicitor, in a city park last May and the case is expected to go to the jury sometime tomorrow.

After having been on the stand continually for more than two days, Miss Farley completed answering the cross questions of Prosecutor Turner shortly after the noon recess today. She went from the stand crying and in a completely exhausted condition from her long ordeal.

Prosecutor Turner scored heavily for the State today when upon severely cross-examining Miss Farley, he forced her to tell of how she had intimate relations with Jerome Quigley, the man whom she was to marry, after their engagement.

Clearing the space in front of the jury box for the second time during the trial, Miss Farley again went through the dramatic action, demonstrating the story of the defense of how Zollinger was "accidentally shot." This time Prosecutor Turner acted the part of Zollinger, instead of Miss Farley's attorney, Mr. Allen.

Under the guidance of the prosecuting attorney who claimed in his opening arguments that it would have been impossible for Zollinger to have been shot in the manner claimed by the defense, the stenographer gave an even more dramatic description.

While holding the revolver to the prosecutor's head at the same distance, she claimed it was from Zollinger's head when the revolver was discharged, the distance was measured by attorneys and found to be 17 inches.

When Miss Farley again took the witness chair after the demonstration she was trembling and very nervous. She broke down and sobbed and had to be helped from the chair to the witness room, where she was allowed to rest for a few minutes.

The prosecution then began its rebuttal and introduced an expert, who declared that he had made experiments and that powder marks could be seen on human flesh from a revolver 26 inches distant.

The defense had previously introduced an expert who declared that powder marks could not be seen on flesh from a revolver held more than six inches away. Attorneys for both the prosecution and defense have agreed to limit their final arguments and pleas to a short time.

Black appealed to the Superior Court and was released under a bond of $3,000.

PORTE TURNS DOWN TERMS OF ALLIES

Turkey Rejects Proposals for Armistice as "Unacceptable"

WILL CONTINUE OPERATIONS

Nazim Pasha Instructed to Proceed With War—Greeks Occupy Florina and Cut Off Turks Retreating That Way.

FIGHTING RESUMED

Constantinople, Nov. 21.—The battle at the Tchatalja lines has been resumed. Cannonading was re-opened with great violence this evening and is plainly audible here.

London, Nov. 21.—The formal suspension of the Turkish-Balkan war proved only for a day. Turkey rejected the Balkan terms for an armistice apparently before the plenipotentiaries had time to come together at Hademkeui.

Kiamil Pasha, the grand vizier, declared that the allies' overtures were "impossible." He ordered the commander-in-chief to continue fighting "with the help of the Almighty", until reasonable and moderate conditions were proposed.

This decision came as an utter surprise and diplomats are not wholly convinced that the Ottoman troops will really take up arms again in the cholera stricken trenches of Tchatalja.

While the Bulgarian conditions for Bulgaria, acting as spokesman for the allies, were extreme, stipulating the surrender of Adrianople and Scutari, both of which strongholds are making an historic defense, as well as the cession of all the territory in Europe, a strip above Constantinople, these conditions were advised as overtures. In other words, they were apparently put forward as a basis for negotiations.

The Porte treated them as an ultimatum.

A Balkan diplomat in London tonight pointed out that these terms were submitted merely as an answer to the Turkish repeated demands for an armistice and said:

"It is practically certain that the rejection will result in more active and determined resumption of hostilities. Probably all the allied troops will now refuse to treat with Turkey until they are in a position to dictate sterner terms in the capital of the Sultan.

Constantinople, Nov. 21.—The terms offered by the Balkan allies for the arrangement of an armistice in the Turkish-Balkan war, are "unacceptable" to the Ottoman government, and Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief has been instructed to continue military operations until more acceptable conditions are offered by the allies, but at the same time he is entrusted with the further negotiations.

The official announcement of the Porte's decision with regard to the armistice is as follows: "The Bulgarian premier has addressed to the Ottoman government a document containing conditions for an armistice which were communicated today to the council of ministers and were considered to be unacceptable.

"Consequently, and likewise in view of the fact that the commander-in-chief has been entrusted in principal with the task of negotiating conditions with the plenipotentiaries of the belligerent States—if these plenipotentiaries are invested with the necessary powers—and has also been directed to communicate the result of such negotiations to us, the commander-in-chief has been instructed to continue military operations with the help of the Almighty, 'until reasonable and moderate conditions are proposed to us'."

It is said that the Bulgarian conditions included a demand for the surrender of Adrianople and Scutari, the withdrawal of the Turkish fleet from the Black sea and the cessation of the dispatch of troops to Tchatalja and the building of fortifications.

Gen. Shukri Pasha, Turkish military commandant of Adrianople, has received the title of "Ghazi", which means "victorious recognition" of his splendid defense. An official dispatch from the captain of the cruiser Hamidieh, which was attacked by Bulgarian torpedo boats in the Black sea this morning, says he sank two of them, and damaged the third, which was able to draw away.

Turkish Cruiser Hit.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 21.—The Turkish cruiser Hamidieh, which was attacked this morning by Bulgarian torpedo boats in the Black seat off the port of Varna, was hit by a torpedo. The vessel, however, put out to sea on being joined by another Turkish cruiser.

The four attacking torpedo boats returned to Varna with damaged smokestacks.

Greeks Cut Off Retreating Turks.

Athens, Nov. 12.—Greek troops have occupied the Turkish town of Florina, south of Monastir, and have cut off the rear guard of the Turkish army retreating from Monastir.

The Turkish soldiers who succeeded in escaping through the Servian lines, and arrived at Monastir number 30,000.

Large quantities of ammunition and stores fell into the hands of the Greeks when they cut off the rear guard.

OVER 100 DIED IN HURRICANE

Additional Details of Tidal Wave Which Swept Jamaican Coast Increases List of Victims—Direful Conditions

Kingston, Ja., Nov. 21.—The official estimate of the dead in the hurricane and tidal wave which visited the western part of Jamaica places the number at more than 100 in the coast towns alone. Details which are gradually coming in indicate great devastation in the western section.

Practically all lighters and coasting sloops and other small vessels around Green Bay island, Lucea and Savanna La Mar foundered, were demolished and a proportion of the crews were drowned. Many persons living in these towns lost their lives in the collapse of buildings.

The houses of the American colony at Montego Bay were badly damaged, but no casualties are reported. The Governor General of Jamaica, Sir Sidney Oliver, reached Montego Bay today and found conditions so direful that he immediately ordered the dispatch of several hundred additional tents and large quantities of food supplies to Kingston. The railway lines are now working within 20 miles of Montego Bay, but the telegraph lines are still disorganized.

The tidal wave at Savanna La Mar was the highest in a century. One coasting vessel was washed half a mile up the main street. Fully 90 per cent of the houses were blown down by the hurricane. The two principal hotels were unroofed, as were all the churches and the railway depot.

The sea swept over the streets in the lower section of the town and rows of dwellings were piled up in a gigantic heap at the mouth of a gulley where the largest number of dead bodies were recovered. An American tourist who happened to be in that town during the hurricane said 40 bodies had been recovered up to the time of his departure.

At Green Bay island, 8 miles southwest of Lucea, the American said there was much wreckage ashore and afloat, but no sign of life could be discovered.

At Lucea, ten bodies were found directly after the storm had subsided.

OPEN ANNUAL CONVENTION

National Woman Suffrage Association Meets at Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Opening their 44th annual convention here today more than 500 delegates to the National American Woman Suffrage Association, after a meeting of the National Executive Board in Witherspoon Hall, were conveyed in automobiles to historic Independence Square, where an open air mass meeting was held. The square was crowded and the speakers from five temporary stands were cheered. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the National president, received a prolonged demonstration.

The first business session of the convention was held this afternoon in Witherspoon Hall, at which the delegates were welcomed by Mayor Blankenburg and others.

The National president made her annual address at tonight's session and speeches were delivered by leaders of the movement from the four franchised States, Kansas, Michigan, Arizona and Oregon.

Mayor Blankenburg, in welcoming the delegates said that he had been a believer in equal rights for women for many years. He predicted that the four newly enfranchised States were only the forerunners of many more victories for the cause.

"In a few years," said the mayor, "you may assuredly expect to see Pennsylvania, New York and other Eastern States in line."

Winnie E. Brandstetter, of Oklahoma, representing the National Woman's Socialist Association, assured the convention of the hearty support of 800,000 voters of the Socialist party throughout the country and of all the State organizations controlled by that party.

GOV. WILSON WORKING

Giving Much Time to Plans for Tariff Reforms

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 21.—"I am not thinking of the cabinet and appointments nowadays," said President-elect Woodrow Wilson today, "but much bigger things than that."

Mr. Wilson, though ostensibly resting, is at work on his plan for the reform of the tariff, currency and other important matters. He said he is in no hurry to begin office filling and recalled instances when the personnel of the cabinet was not known until after inauguration.

With reference to the possible visit here of politicians, Mr. Wilson said he did not expect any one to call on him for the purpose of discussing future appointments or policies.

The Governor, Sir George M. Bullock, will give a banquet in honor of the President-elect who on Monday will attend the session of parliament.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Charles D. Hilles today resumed his duties as private secretary to President Taft, succeeding Carmi Thompson, appointed treasurer of the United States. Mr. Hilles formally resigned to become chairman of the Republican National Committee.

EX-PRESIDENTS TO BE GIVEN PENSION

They Will Receive $25,000 Annually from the Carnegie Corporation

SIMILAR AMOUNT FOR WIDOWS

The Grant is Provided for to Enable Former National Executives to Devote Their Knowledge to the Public Good.

New York, Nov. 21.—Futures ex-Presidents of the United States are to be pensioned in the sum of $25,000 each annually by action of the Carnegie Corporation of New York today.

The grant is provided for with the idea of enabling former executives of the Nation to devote their unique knowledge gained in public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care. A similar amount is to be paid widows of ex-Presidents as long as they remain unmarried.

The pensions are to be promptly offered to the ex-Presidents or their widows, so that no application will be required from them. Payment is to be continued so long as the recipients "remain unprovided for by the government."

The announcement was made at the second annual meeting of the corporation held at the residence of Andrew Carnegie here and attended by the corporation's eight trustees. Five of these right trustees are the heads of the five institutions which Mr. Carnegie has founded—the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Elihu Root, president; the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Henry S. Pritchett, president; the Carnegie Institution of Washington, Robert S. Woodward, president; Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, Pittsburg, Charles L. Taylor, president; Carnegie Institute of Pittsburg, William Marew, president.

The successors of these five men become ex-officio trustees of the Carnegie Corporation of New York. In addition there are three life trustees—Andrew Carnegie, Robert A. Franks and James Bertram. The trustees authorized this statement of the corporation's aims.

"A total of $125,000,000 in securities has thus far been transferred to the corporation, which will carry on the various works in which Mr. Carnegie has been engaged and such others as he may from time to time think it advisable to establish. Mr. Carnegie believes he has taken the surest means of securing for the future a body of the best possible trustees. The heads of the institutions obviously must irevitably be men of high moral and intellectual standing. They are empowered by a two-thirds vote to modify or discontinue any branch of the service which in their judgment has become inadvisable or unnecessary, or if better use can be made of the funds and also to adopt from time to time such work as by them may be deemed most desirable for the wants of the age so that from age to age the fund may be expended upon the most profitable work, whether that be the promotion of new ideas or the development of those in that day."

In this meeting the trustees took under consideration a number of matters in their keeping and concerning the details of which no announcement was made, but the principal item of business passed upon was the pension plan for ex-Presidents of the United States and their widows. The announcement covering the matter follows:

"Provision has been made through this corporation for a pension for each future ex-President and his widow unmarried, of $25,000 per year as long as these remain unprovided for by the nation, that they may be able to spend the latter part of their lives devoting their unique knowledge gained of the public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care. These pensions will be promptly offered to the ex-Presidents or widows so that no application will be required from them."

No authorized reference was made to the matter of pension other than is contained in the foregoing announcement.

Robert A. Franks, one of the three trustees of the Carnegie Corporation of New York, is treasurer of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Mr. Betram is Mr. Carnegie's secretary.

RUSSELLISM SCORED.

Methodists View With Alarm Spread of His Literature.

High Point, N. C., Nov. 21.—"Russellism" was scored by the Methodists at the second day of the Western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, today. The Methodist ministers "viewed with alarm" the spreading of Pastor Russell's literature which was described as a "menace". It was reported that some members were giving much of their time to reading Russell's books whereupon Bishop Denny, presiding at the conference, remarked "they are going through a dreary desert land" and "such a doctrine is comforting for the sinner." The conference is considering converting three of the districts into two, which would affect Asheville, Waynesville and Franklin districts. No definite action has yet been taken.

..Theatrical..

The Academy of Music certainly has an exceptional offering next week, for four nights and a corresponding number of matinees, in the $100,000 moving pictures of Sarah Bernhardt, the offering being made by Mr. Daniel Frohman. The attraction will inaugurate its engagement Monday afternoon at the Academy, the exhibition commencing at 4 o'clock. The price for the matinees will be 25 cents. At night the prices will be 25 and 50 cents.

The film of Bernhardt is something new and has been presented at but few places outside the big cities. Of the attraction the Chicago News recently said:

"At Powers' Theatre there is being presented 'Elizabeth' in moving pictures, these having been made in Paris where the great play is now current.

"Mme. Sarah Bernhardt is the central figure in this play, and her work is indeed marvelous, justifying, perhaps, the published statement that this play is the greatest success of her life.

"The production is one of superb finish and wonderful sweep, and all the actors evidently have been chosen with extreme care, and therefore, the reproduction in the films is a wonderful one, and an evening spent watching this presentation is well worth while.

"Especially remarkable is the street scene where Essex is led to prison, and the scene of his execution, while the death scene of Elizabeth is such a picture as only Bernhardt could evolve.

"Special music is used in connection with this entertainment. Mr. Joseph Carl Breil, composer of 'The Climax' music, has written an especial score for it, and this is of great elaborateness as well as being accurately descriptive to the most minute detail. At Powers' it is given with piano only, but even in this attenuated shape it shows marvelous care on the part of the composer, and the movement of the play is followed very accurately."

At The Grand Theatre

"Where the River Shannon Flows," a grand old Irish song, will be sung by special request by Mr. Leonard Chick, at the Grand Theatre today and everybody should hear it. This song is old but it has lost none of its sweetness and Mr. Chick will give a superb rendition of it.

In the moving pictures today The Grand will offer two big imported pictures on a single film, a wonderful Pathe, the subjects being "The End of Louis XI" and "Old Toledo." The first is a powerful drama of the nobility, historicallly correct and educational in its nature. The last named is a beautifully colored cinematograph showing various points of interest in this old, old town, including the prison of the Inquisition.

But the big feature for today in the moveys is "Billy's Pipe Dream." Billy falls into a fortune and soon thereafter at the solicitation of a college chum becomes the angel for a comic opera troupe in the West. His experiences are rich, rare and racy and the picture will be found one of the most entertaining released in a twelve month. Besides these three pictures there will be a fourth reel and it should be borne in mind that all these pictures are put on with full effects and with complete orchestra.

At The Bijou

It seemed that the very limit, the pinnacle for artistic triumph and bigness had been reached yesterday, when The Bijou presented four swell film sensations. Yet it was not; that is, it was not for the enterprise of the alert Bijou management, because at the favorite amusement spot today will be offered five films. Think of that. A quitet of the very latest and most expensive films, presented in modern way, while the onlookers revel in solid comfort, and all for the tiny price of admission of 5 cents, afternoon or night.

The films today will all deal with fascinating, live themes and should not be missed. There is a film of circus life, one of baseball, another of war, yet another of modern comedy and still another of an educational subject. A great galaxy, to be sure. The circus film is "How Bobby Joined the Circus." It transports the beholders to the circus arena and also to the managerie. It does more. It shows how the big tents are pitched, and circus life outside the sawdust arena. It is a great film. The children should certainly see it this afternoon. All grownups should also be present.

"The Durmmer Girl of Vicksburg" is a thriller in the way of a war film, and it will crash with battle and stir, with exciting incidents. The heroine is a brave young Confederate lassie.

"The Sporting Editor" is the baseball film and it is a peach. It combines an insight into city journalism with the ball diamond and besides telling a stirring tale, shows the Philadelphia Americans in an exciting game. "Home Run" Baker is a prominent character.

"Caught Bluffing" is the funniest of all films. Parents try to bluff young people by making out like they are crazy. The joke is on them, because they are carted to an asylum.

Then will come the great educational film, "Benaries and Agra, India."

Sprained His Wrist.

Friends of Deputy Sheriff Joseph W. Brown will regret to know that he is temporarily disabled as the result of falling over a piece of gas pipe Monday night on the sidewalk at corner of Fourth and Harnett streets. Both wrists were sprained badly and he has suffered very much pain since the accident. He is still confined to his home, but his friends hope to see him out in a few days.

New York, Nov. 21.—Sam Schepps. "Bald Jack" Rose, Harry Vallon and "Bridgie" Webber, the four informers whose testimony led to the conviction of former Police Lieut. Charles Becker and the four gunmen for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, were discharged from custody today. Schepps was the first to be given freedom. He had been held on a technical charge of vagrancy. When released he refused to divulge his plans for the future.

The Recorder's Court.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning William Cumber, a white man, was tried on a charge of abandonment and non-support. The judgment of the court was that he give a bond of $100 to furnish his wife with $5 a week for nine months. Paul Aman, a young white man, was required to pay the costs for violating the traffic ordinance. A case against John Henry, charged with vagrancy and an attempt to break prison, will be tried today. Henry made an attempt to get out of his cell at the city prison early yesterday morning by breaking through the top. He would have succeeded in getting out of his cell but for the fact that Officer Dew, driver of the patrol, went in the section devoted to colored prisoners, at the opportune time.

CHINA PREPARES FOR WAR.

New Republic Will Fight Russia for Possession of Mongolia.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Cablegrams received here from China announce that the Republic is preparing to go to war with Russia for possession of Mongolia. The big Chinese secret societies which fostered the revolution have been exchanging dispatches with President Yuan Shi Kai. The Young China Association has opened subscription lists and lecturers have spoken at every Chinatown corner, explaining the encroachments of the Czar's troops in the ancient Chinese territory.

Dispatches have been received here by Yow Gook Har, secretary to Fung Chi Yu, Secretary of State of Yuan Shi Kai's cabinet, to the effect that an army of 60,000 has been mobilized in Peking and that Gen. Oong Hing, hero of the revolution, has been appointed its leader. According to a report Gen. Oong Hing has ordered his army north to Mongolia, with instructions to establish military rule and drive Russian soldiers out.

Inmate of State Hospital Alleges She Is Unlawfully Held

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 21.—A writ of habeas corpus was sued out today before Associate Justice Brown, of the Supreme Court, by Mrs. Lydia W. Rogers and others, for Mrs. Ella H. Weathers, who was committed to the State Hospital for the Insane here a few months ago on an affidavit of her husband, Frank H. Weathers, and Dr. Z. M. Cavenness. The complainants allege that Mrs. Weathers is not and has not been insane. The case will be heard Friday morning before Justice Brown, in the Supreme Court room. Mrs. Rogers came to Raleigh from Ontario, Canada, two years ago and married Mr. Weathers about one year ago.

DRUGGIST RECCOMMENDS.

Vinol for Run-Down People.

If any one person should know the value of medicines it is the druggist who dispenses them and from our experience we want to say if people in this vicinity only knew the value of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) at this season of the year, we would not be able to supply the demand.

This is because Vinol is a combination of two most world famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of cods' livers without the oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, promotes healthful sleep and a normal appetite.

Old people, delicate children, rundown, overworked and tired women, should try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

White Boy and Negro Jailed at Greensboro—Case Arbitrated.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Nov. 21.—Now, then, on a charge of first degree burglary, two youths, one a negro and the other white, and aged 14 years respectively, were locked up by the city police last night. The specific count is that they entered the home of Miss Sallie Worth, an aged lady who resides on Cedar street, one night about two weeks ago, ransacked several rooms and escaped with articles of small value and a small sum of money. The boys, Jim Davis, white, and Tom Johnson, negro, admit entering the house, each attempting to shift the burden of the crime and its instigation upon the other.

The white boy is larger than the negro and made stout denial of the charge until the negro frankly told the police the full story. Davis then admitted that he followed the negro in the house, "just to see what he did." The Davis boy when asked for the name of his father, said: "I just as well not have any," explaining that Tom Davis, his father, went to Greenville, S. C., five years ago, and had never been back home. His mother pleaded with the police to let her keep the boy at home for the night and have him in the city court this morning. This plea was in vain. Both were given a preliminary hearing, and held for Superior Court.

Argument by attorneys before a board of arbitration in a case involving $50,000 was concluded here late yesterday afternoon and the arbitrators, Judge Manning, of Durham; Clement Manly, of Winston, and R. F. Cox, of Reidsville, announced that they would render their decision within a few days. The case is one by the Hunter Manufacturing and Commission Company, agents for a number of Southern cotton mills, against the Ocean Accident and Indemnity Company, and through it the Hunter company seeks to recover $50,000 as alleged losses sustained by the failure of the Randleman Manufacturing Company and the Naomi cotton mills, of Randleman, and the Jones Manufacturing Company, of South Carolina. The Ocean Accident Company denies that the losses in question were covered by the indemnity policy of the Hunter company.

A clause in the policy provided that in the case of a disagreement settlement should be made by arbitration, and it is in the fulfillment of this clause that the gentlemen named have been asked to settle the disputed points. The evidence was taken about three weeks ago, and a two-days argument concluded yesterday.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM CAL.

District Court of Appeals Hands Down Favorable Decision

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 21.—The District Court of Appeals handed down a decision in the election controversy late today which Democratic leaders declare will place California in the Wilson column of Presidential electors.

The decision was against the method of board of supervisors in canvassing the returns of Los Angeles county. The court held that the tallies should be counted and not the certifications. At least one precinct, that of Pasadena, now will be virtually thrown out by the decision, with a loss of 13 plurality for all electors of Roosevelt except Wallace.

A peremptory writ of mandamus was ordered issued, directing the board of supervisors to canvass the election returns in accordance with the conclusions set forth in the opinion. The opinions sustained the Democrats in all except one point. It was an important point, inasmuch as a decision in favor of the Democratic convention would have assured the election of the entire 13 Wilson electors in the State. This involved the returns of 35 precincts which the Democrats petitioned to be rejected entirely because the sealed envelopes had been opened that corrections in the certification could be made by the election board.

The court held that the breaking of the sealed envelopes prior to the time for opening them in public, was contrary to law, "but did not constitute such an irregularity as to require that the returns be entirely rejected."

In these precincts Roosevelt had a plurality of more than 1,000.

The decision caused consternation among Progressive leaders, and the members of the canvassing board, because of the brief time remaining for the certification and forwarding of the returns to the Secretary of State.

Failure to do that by next Monday would result in the vote of the banner Roosevelt county being lost with its approximately 2,000 plurality for the Progressive Presidential candidate. It also is pointed out that the method adopted by the supervisors makes a complete recount of 727 precincts in the county necessary, and the work of canvassing the returns in the manner stipulated by the court will necessitate night and day work continuously until next Monday.

Flagged Train With Shirt.

Tearing his shirt from his back an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price 50 cents at R. R. Bellamy.

MORE DRASTIC LEGISLATION

It Is Urged by Superintendent of Anti-Saloon League—Archibald Johnson President—Land Case From Pender County

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 21.—At the annual meeting of the executive committee of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, just held here, the resignation of R. F. Beasley as chairman was accepted and Archibald Johnson, of Thomasville, was elected in his stead. The report of Superintendent R. L. Davis for the year was read and his recommendations received.

These are that the league endorse and urge the passage of the Webb-McComber inter-State liquor shipment bill and send delegates to Washington December 16th to 19th, in its interest; call upon the Legislature at its approaching suggestion for the passage of a Statewide search and seizure law with proper safeguards as to affidavits; an act to require the express companies and other common carriers to report to some county officer at stated intervals all liquors received and to have the county officer publish these reports in the county press under regular advertising contracts. He also commended the Lincoln-Lee legion department of the Anti-Saloon League to the pastors and Sunday School workers and urged co-operation. He appealed for more liberal support to the Anti-Saloon League work. Superintendent Davis' financial report showed an indebtedness of $1,276, $825 of this being due three employes. He reported $5,236 outstanding in unpaid pledges.

The Supreme Court has taken under advisement the noted case of State Board of Education vs. R. C. Remick, involving the title to the 45,000-acre belt of swamp lands known as Holly Shelter pocosin in Pender county. The State Board sold the tract to Remick who refused to accept the deed on the ground that it was defective and the suit is to settle this issue. The State bought the lands for taxes in 1779, after it had been originally granted to Daniel Wheaton in 1795. The Supreme Court yesterday heard the argument by Attorney General T. W. Bickett for the State Board, and by Rountree & Carr, of Wilmington, for the defendant.

DISCIPLES' CONVENTION.

Sixty-Eighth Session in Progress at Farmville, N. C.—Proceedings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Farmville, N. C., Nov. 21.—The 68th annual session of the Disciples' Convention began Monday evening here, C. W. Howard, of Kinston, presiding and H. C. Bobbitt, of Mount Olive, leading the singing. C. B. Marshburn, the pastor, and T. C. Turnage, made eloquent speeches of welcome. L. T. Rightsell, of LaGrange, in response made a happy hit on the singing of "We Have Reached the Land of Corn and Wine." The attendance is very large and the enthusiasm is great. Richard Bagley, the new pastor at Wilson, made a touching appeal for ministerial relief, reporting more than $25,000 by the recent close of the National Convention in Louisville. W. T. Laprode, professor of history in Trinity College, preached the convention sermon on "The Divine Evangelism." He put stress upon the present salvation by Jesus as well as the eternal.

Tuesday morning began with the quiet half hour of prayer, conducted by President Willis, of Virginia Christian College, Lynchburg. A whole hour followed with brief reports from all the preachers present, and addresses by C. Manly Morton, of Winston-Salem, and others. E. A. Moye, of Greenville, presided and President J. W. Hmes, of Rocky Mount, announced the various committee, preparatory to the work of the convention.

Tuesday afternoon the Christian Woman's Board of Missions was in session, Mrs. R. F. Hill, of Winton, presiding. She gave a beautiful message. The seven district managers followed with reports of the year. Miss Etta Nunn, of Newbern, the corresponding secretary, made her annual report. The feature of the evening session was an address from Mrs. G. W. Oliver, of Crewe, Va., the visiting guest of honor.

Peculiar interest centered in the address of Secretary Stephen J. Carey, just returned from Africa, where that great church of recent converts from heathenism, is sending out one of every ten to proclaim the gospel of Christ.

State Superintendent R. V. Hope, of Washington, N. C., is awakening much interest in Bible School work. Daily sessions are being conducted by National Superintendent Robert M. Hopkins, of Cincinnati, and J. Randall Faris, of, Birmingham, Ala. Miss Lillie Faris, a specialist from the Standard Publishing Co., of Cincinnati, is giving a fine series of talks on primary work.

With stirring music led by many singers and solos by Miss Carrie Bowen, of Wilmington, enthusiasm runs high.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Sanford, N. C., Nov. 21.—Judge James L. Webb adjourned the November term of Superior Court for Lee county this afternoon. Court convened Monday for the trial of both criminal and civil cases. The criminal docket was finished Tuesday afternoon, the following being tried and convicted. John Leigh, four months for gambling; George Pettway, two years for store breaking; Allen McIver, eight months for assault with deadly weapon; George Washington, six months for stealing. On account of the illness of attorneys, no civil cases of importance were tried, all being continued to the next term.

NEWBERN MAY SELL UTILITIES

Carolina Power Company—Bidding—Medical Association—Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 21.—That Newbern may sell its electric light and water plant became known last night when at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen, one of the members urged that the city take no steps toward erecting new buildings at the plant on this account. The city has had the matter of the erection of a new fire-proof building to house the water and light plant under consideration for some time and last night the bids were opened. A letter was read from one of the officers of the Carolina Power Company, of Raleigh, urging that no action be taken in the matter just at this time, or until that company had looked into the proposition here and decided whether or not they wanted to purchase the local plant. Representative of the company was in the city several days ago looking over the works and he seemed to be very much impressed with what he found. The aldermen decided to hold the matter of erecting new buildings over until another meeting could be held and in the meantime see what developments were made. If it is decided to sell the plant the matter will be put to the people, many of whom are in favor of such an action while many are opposed, believing that it will mean a big increase in the rates for water and electricity.

The Seaboard Medical Association, an organization composed of about 100 of the leading physicians in North Carolina and Virginia, will meet here December 3rd for a three days' session. The last meeting was held in Virginia. During the meeting a number of public addresses will be made by some of the doctors and also an illustrated lecture on the health of the community will be made. The local doctors are planning to give the visitors a big time when they come to this city.

Walter Martin, a young white man employed at the Norfolk Southern shops in this city, was seriously if not fatally, injured there this morning when he was caught in a set of shafting. The young man was engaged in placing a belt on one of the pulleys. In some way his body became entangled in the big wheel and belt and was whirled around many times before he was rescued. His left arm was broken in two places and that he was probably injured internally. He was taken to Stewart's sanitorium.

Relatives of the late Joseph Whitty announce that they will resist earnestly the efforts to secure a pardon for Burrill and Leona Casey, who were convicted at the October term, 1911, of Craven county Superior Court of poisoning Mr. Whitty and sentenced to ten years in the State prison. They state that they have no idea that the judge, solicitor or jury favors the granting of the pardon. They state further that they will take the matter up with the Governor and will see that he is thoroughly informed as to all the circumstances under which the verdict was found by the Superior Court and sustained by the Supreme Court. The Caseys have served less than one year of their ten-year sentences, not having been taken to the penitentiary until after the Supreme Court's ruling in the case.

An action entitled the Inter-State Cooperage Company vs. The Bayboro Land and Lumber Company, in which large tracts of timber land in Pamlico county is involved, was begun today at a hearing in the United State court room before Special Master N. J. Rouse, of Kinston. The case will probably consume three or four days. Messrs. Small & McLean, of Washington, N. C., and L. I. Moore, of Newbern, are appearing for the plaintiffs while W. B. Rodman, of Norfolk; W. B. Rodman, Jr., of Washington, and H. L. Gibbs, of Oriental, are looking after the defendants' interest. There are more than fifty witnesses for the hearing.

ACCIDENT IN OFFICE.

Flower Pot Falls on Lady Waiting in Kinston Dentist's Parlor.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 21.—A Mrs. Jones, of Northeast Kinston, was the victim of a most unusual accident yesterday afternoon in the office of a dentist on Queen street. Mrs. Jones an elderly woman, was waiting in the reception room for the dentist, and was seated on a sofa. On an ornamental shelf on the wall six or seven feet from the floor was a clay flower pot, containing a plant of the creeper family. A tendril of this was almost long enough to brush the sofa, and it, swinging sinuously, became entangled in Mrs. Jones' bonnet. So securely was it fastened that when the lady moved, the whole mass of pottery, plant and earth was brought down about her. The pot struck her on the head, inflicting injuries which necessitated her being taken to the office of a physician. The wound required three stitches and was remarkable in that it was not more serious, the pot and its contents weighing over 20 pounds. Mrs. Jones' condition is very favorable.

TRAVELING MAN A SUICIDE

Took Carbolic Acid In Greensboro Hotel—A Virginian

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 21.—Wilton R. Dillard, of Lynchburg Va., and a well-known traveling man in this territory, committed suicide in his room at the McAdoo Hotel sometime during last night or this morning by drinking the contents of an ounce vial containing carbolic acid. The body was found by the maid about 9 o'clock and the coroner immediately notified. The empty acid bottle and open notes told the full story.

Dillard is well-known in local hotels and on the last trip came here two days ago, stopping at the McAdoo, where a lifelong friend, A. H. Adams, is chief clerk. Though visiting his trade Mr. Dillard complained of a stomach disorder and took several pills the first night he was here. Yesterday he asked one of the porters to go to the drug store and get him an ounce of carbolic acid, stating that he wished to use it as a disinfectant. This remained in his room all day, the suicide retiring rather early last night though stating in response to an inquiry that he was not sick and did not want a doctor.

Going to the room in response to the hysterical cries of the maid Chief Clerk Adams found his friend and guest cold in death, his lips and tongue badly burned by the acid. On the table lay an open note, stating: "Business reverses is the cause of this. A wholesale hat house ruined me and made me a nervous wreck. Notify Hugh R. Miller, of Lynchburg, Va." There was a large business-appearing letter addressed to Mr. Miller and a note addressed to Mr. Adams. In the note to Mr. Adams the request was made that as little publicity as possible be given the matter and that people at Huntington; Va., the old home of Dillard, not be notified. All of these were turned over to the coroner, who quickly arrived at a verdict that the death was by the hand of Dillard. The body was held until tonight upon instructions at noon from Mr. Miller, of Lynchburg.

The deceased leaves a wife and two children who reside at Lynchburg. He has two borthers, Jack and A. T. Dillard, who travel in this territory. Another brother was killed in jumping through a hotel skylight at the Hotel Richmond, Va., about two years ago though the family made denial to the charge that it was suicide. The deceased represented the Carroll-Adams Company, a shoe house, and had traveled this territory for nearly 20 years. He was 42 years of age and according to his friends, a man of splendid habits, never indulging in alcoholic drinks.

Alma, Mich., Nov. 21.—Instead of having sustained a broken neck in last Saturday's football game, as was reported, Capt. Johnson, of the Alma College eleven, escaped with a few bruised ligaments. He was able to day to walk about the campus unaided.

DANGER MARK NOW PASSED

In Condition of Mrs. Hibbs, According To Advices From Morton's Gap

Morton's Gap, Ky.—"I was taken sick, and confined to my room and bed most of the time, for ten months," writes Mrs. Louise E. Hibbs, of this place.

"I had ulcers and then a tumor. The second doctor who treated me, said the last chance was an operation, to remove the tumor, and when the third doctor was called in, he told me it was serious and that it was doubtful if I would recover.

I couldn't consent to the operation, so I decided to try Cardui. When I had taken two bottles I felt better. In two months I could go about and do light house work. Now I feel well, and the tumor is gone.

I do heartily recommend Cardui to suffering women. I am sure it will cure."

Cardui acts gently on the womanly organs, and has a strengthening effect on the entire womanly constitution. For over half a century, Cardui has been successfully used by many thousands of women, for the numerous ailments peculiar to their sex, also as a general tonic, for building up their strength.

So, if you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, or if you need a good tonic to build up your strength—don't wait longer, but do as they do—take Cardui. Begin today.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

NOW you have often said:—"Oh dear, I dread when eating time comes near. It's not so much the cooking, grub, but cleaning after,"—there's the "rub." Each kitchen holds a mass of work, no tidy little wife should shirk.

Gold Dust vs. Kitchen Worry

The kitchen floor, the kitchen sink, the kitchen pots as black as ink, the kitchen kettles and the pans, the silver, glass and cups and cans; wherever you may look, the toil means more than any kettles boil. To just "prepare" a meal is "fun," but work, with THAT is scarce "begun."

If those who stay up days and nights to win the cause of "Women's Rights" would only vote the GOLD DUST PLAN they soon would have the best of man. More time for comfort and for smiles; more time to play a woman's wiles, for once the GOLD DUST TWINS appear, Hard Labor's cry you never hear; frail woman is a queenly soul who plays the "Take-it-Easy" role. Each GOLD DUST package sets her free by bearing out its guarantee, and never more those household woes that every weary woman knows. Pile up the dishes as you will, the GOLD DUST TWINS will clean 'em still. Old floors and woodwork sinks and pans, turn out as Master Cleaner Plans. From sun to sun, and chore to chore, your tasks will fret you nevermore.

Ten newspaper correspondents are with President-elect Wilson but they are keeping off the Bermuda grass.

The trouble with the politics of this country is that too many men hope to make a living out of politics alone.

If you were an army how would you like to have a few aeroplanes flitting overhead and dropping bombs into the ranks?

Third Termism was tough on the seven little Governors. They went down with the idea. They tied the sinker on and it did the rest.

Every business man in Wilmington has reason to enlarge his confidence in Wilmington. Get in the game and help watch Wilmington grow.

The fellow who has an idea that there is anything in being a gunman will miss the mark. The electric chair is waiting for those who throw their lives away.

Republicans who have held office under Taft would be obliging enough to serve under Wilson. However, they won't have to do it, as there are a hundred Democrats to every office in the country.

The early Christmas advertiser will be sure to catch Santa Claus. Schedule your holiday offerings and have them ready for publicity. Nobody can guess just what you have. They might think you haven't got anything if you do not advertise.

Already the Hon. William J. Bryan is coming under the hammer. He is used to that, but the Colonel's attitude should not be regarded as one promising trouble till it is known what he proposes to do when the Democratic administration gets down to work.

Wilmington has outgrown our most iridescent pipedreams. We ought to wake up and go to chasing rainbows with the very brightest prospect of bringing one home for Wilmington. All we've got to do is to get a move on us and climb the golden stairs of opportunity. This is no joke.

This seems to have been a bad year for gunmen. One sign that a fellow who is handy with a gun is not a man of peaceable intentions is that he always has a gun for use when he wants to get into action. Carrying a concealed weapon is the best evidence that the man who carries it will use it on the slightest provocation.

WILMINGTON'S HOUSING PROBLEM.

During the past week considerable interest has been aroused by the discussion of Wilmington's housing problem. The Star and its contributors have only one purpose and that is not to find cause for differing but to make common cause in an earnest purpose to provide additional and greatly needed modern residences for the growing city of Wilmington.

We have appreciated the communications of Mr. Behrends and others who have contributed to the discussion, and we are only too glad to receive from our citizens anything of a practical nature they may desire to suggest or promote. It shows that there is a community interest and that our citizens are in touch with The Star to better conditions and promote the best interests of our beautiful and delightful city—the fairest in all the land. One thing lacking in most communities is elbow touch, and when Wilmington's earnest and thoughtful business men manifest a desire to come forward and take a hand in the discussion of public affairs, it is evidence of a liver spirit and a keener desire to get together on plans for the development of the city.

As the Star has heretofore remarked, we have a problem to solve and this is no time to make a halt to count the costs. When the cost of production increases, the manufacturer marks up the price of his manufactures and goes on with his business. When the merchant's wares increase in cost he advances prices accordingly, and so it is all down the line. Business goes on somehow, but it would halt if business men were to stop to count the cost and fall down on his opportunities and the possibilities of trade. So it must be with the building and real estate interests. They have to keep up with the times and never take to the woods.

The progress of cities does not stop because of advancing values, but their live men make opportunities for themselves to meet all kinds of conditions and they go right on building their cities. It is not the city that makes the men. The men make the cities. Their city is whatever they make it. They never make a city by slowing down under any condition, but they can do it by their confidence and their optimism in a forward movement. There is no retrograde movement here but steady and rapid progress based upon the tremendous possibilities of this port and the numerous potentialities of this city and section for greater development.

We are just as sure of a magnificent future for Wilmington as we are that the great American Republic is going forward to fulfill a destiny of which we little dream. Nobody has any idea that the United States are going to stop being the greatest country on the globe, and no one has the slightest idea that the resourceful State of North Carolina is going to take the back track. North Carolinians have made their State the second greatest cotton manufacturing State in the Union, and those same men and the great resources upon which they have built are right here yet. We have only scratched around the titanic resources of North Carolina and we have only waked up and got a glimpse of the huge possibilities ahead of us. We had better broaden our vision and see what the future has in store for Wilmington.

The United States have not built the Panama canal for fun. The government is not going to build the intra-coastal waterway as a pastime. The government is not dredging a thirty foot channel at Wilmington just to be doing, but it is meeting the needs of the future and bases its expenditures upon former investments that have paid a good dividend in commerce. What the Suez canal has been worth to Europe, the Panama canal is to be worth to America, and with the near future holding out to Wilmington the most tremendous commercial possibilities up to this time in all the history of the world, we are not going to let other cities see more opportunities than we can see.

Wilmington is growing right along and she is going to keep right on growing. Her fame is spreading and all of us have got to spread it on thicker. We must have a go-ahead housing campaign so we can offer homes to the hundreds of newcomers who are dropping in on us daily. One from Norfolk was here yesterday looking for a home, and they keep right on coming. They are going to keep right on coming. We will have to continues this in our next.

PHILADELPHIA'S BOOSTERS

The Trade Extension committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce is swinging around the circle in North Carolina this week. They are traveling in special cars and the party consists of many of Philadelphia's leading business men and manufacturers. Practically all interests in Philadelphia are represented, and the trade extensionists have had a cordial and hospitable welcome in every Tar Heel city they have visited.

Philadelphia has sent out a husky set of boosters, and their visit will immensely enlighten our people about the great manufacturing and commercial metropolis of Pennsylvania. Meanwhile, the Philadelphians will observe the progress being made in North Carolina. Many surprises have been in store for them, but no doubt the greatest surprise to them has been the great undeveloped resources of North Carolina. While North Carolians are doing the best they can with the capital at their command, the business men of the Quaker City have failed to be good observers if they have not noticed the great opportunities that are held out in this State for investment as well as for trade.

The trade extensionists have come to this State with a view to pushing the interests of Philadelphia. They will recognize in this State a fine field for enlarging the trade opportunities of their city, and it can be said that such movements always give satisfaction to wideawake North Carolina business men, for Philadelphia trade could not receive impetus down here without a corresponding increase of North Carolina's trade with Philadelphia. There is a mutual feature to all such movements and they stimulate the enterprise and enlarge the vision of all concerned.

Philadelphia's business men will go back home with broadened views about North Carolina, even though they have hurried through an itinery that covered only a portion of the State. We regret that they did not extend their visit to North Carolina's ocean gateway which has a foreign and domestic commerce of $65,000,000 annually and which is the fourth greatest cotton port of the United States. If Philadelphia would greatly enlarge her trade relations with North Carolina and South Carolina, she should run a line of steamers to Wilmington and establish business connections for a wide distribution through this greatest of South Atlantic distributing points. The Philadelphians had better charter a steamer and come to Wilmington. There is a great opportunity for mutual ocean traffic between Philadelphia and Wilmington and inland points in the Carolinas and Georgia, and if the trade extensionists want to make their opportunities bigger, they should get in touch with Wilmington.

Many of the biggest concerns in the United States are making Wilmington their distributing point and some of them have established large manufacturing plants here because of this city's great advantages for distribution into the most prosperous and promising portion of the South. Just as the trade relations of New York and Wilmington are mutually satisfactory, so would be any extension of Philadelphia's trade in this direction. Let Philadelphia broaden her vision and look Wilmington over in furthering the ambitious scheme of the Quaker City to promote her great interests. If the Philadelphians mean business and set on foot a really constructive plan to broaden their trade opportunities, their excursion into North Carolina will pave the way for achievements. Their trip must not be a junket. It must be a purposeful commercial invasion.

LIVESTOCK CONVENTION.

The Georgia county which has organized a Grain Growers' Association has set a good example for all the counties of the Southern States, and now the Jacksonville Metropolis comes along with the announcement that next month there is to be a Livestock Convention at the University of Florida. Grain growing and the livestock industry go hand in hand and the two together will go a long way towards making the South independent.

At the Florida Livestock Convention all features of the industry are to be discussed. Experts from the government experiment station, the State University, and from the Agricultural Department at Washington, will be present to discuss the various topics of the subject. They will lay particular stress upon eradication of the cattle tick, the cause of great loss in practically all the Southern States. The first essential thing to be done is to get rid of ticks. If that is not done there is no use to talk live stock.

A New York heiress has eloped wieh an organist. This shows that it is not necessary for all men to be chauffeurs.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The statement that Governor Joe Brown of Georgia made 156 bushels of corn on an acre of land, moves the Wilmington Star to suggest that Governor Brown must have been born in North Carolina. Either that or he had his acre of Georgia land inoculated with North Carolina dirt.—Greensboro News.

One of the most remarkable documents on record in the State is the will of William Patterson, in the office of the Clerk of Superior Court of Elbert county. Patterson died in Baltimore in 1835, and left a vast estate, including several thousand acres of land in Elbert. He was the father of Elizabeth Patterson, the beautiful Baltimore belle, who became the wife of Jerome Bonaparte, on his visit to America in 1793. Bonaparte was forced to divorce her by order of his brother, the Emperor Napoleon, before he was made king of Westphalia. The will of Patterson is published in full by the Athens Banner. It covers 30 pages of the book of record which is now yellow with age, but the smooth, firm handwriting of the period is still perfectly legible. It recites the family history of the testator and gives in detail his adventures and commercial transactions between the ports of America, Europe and the West Indies.—Savannah News.

With the boll weevil practically arrived at Georgia's southwestern border, State Entomologist E. L. Worsham has been studying the conditions which may be expected within the next few years, and as one conclusion he announces that Sea Island cotton growing will have to go, except on the islands themselves. "The coming of the boll weevil," he tells the Savannah Press, "sounds the death knell of Sea Island cotton on the mainland within the next few years. We may be able to keep the islands free of the pest, but there will be no Sea Island cotton at all raised in counties like Tattnall and Bulloch within the next three or four years, and it is possible that this class of staple may disappear from these centers before that time." In his positive belief, no cotton which grows as slowly as the Sea Island does and matures as late can survive the weevil's advance; for in infected territory the most essential step is to plant quick growing, early-maturing varieties, and it is only by this means that successful resistance has been made. When the pest encounters the latest-maturing of all cotton, and amid the low, warm, damp, shelter-abounding conditions which he loves, the Sea Island growers will have to resign.—Charlotte Observer.

Funeral Services Held at Sanford Yesterday—Highly Esteemed.

INTERNATIONAL YACHT RACE.

San Francisco Accepts Sir Thomas Lipton's Challenge for Race.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Sir Thomas Lipton's proposal for an international yacht race here in 1915 was accepted today.

At a luncheon of the San Francisco Commercial Club given in honor of Sir Thomas, a letter was read to him accepting "on behalf of a syndicate yet to be named."

"We will meet you with a boat designed under the universal rule, built and sailed by San Franciscoans, and may the best boat win," the letter read.

It is estimated that the American defender will cost about $75,000. She probably will be named "The Nineteen Fifteen."

LIGHT FINE FOR ZARZA

Jury Finds Cuban Guilty and Fixes Fine at $5

Newport News, Va., Nov. 21.—After a trial lasting two days, the jury in the case of Joseph J. Zarza, clerk in the Cuban consul's office here, charged with assault and battery upon Mrs. Charles F. Brown, wife of a draughtsman, this afternoon returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at a fine of five dollars. The verdict was a compromise, it is said, as five of the seven jurors were for acquittal. The case came before the jury on an appeal from a $500 fine and a three months' jail sentence imposed in police court. Zarza was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Brown's husband. Mr. Brown had been arrested for attempting to kill the Cuban with a revolver when the latter called at his home. After the verdict of the jury had been announced Senor Joseph Baranaca, who was sent here by the Cuban minister at Washington to investigate the case, asked the court to be allowed to enter a formal protest against the verdict on behalf of the Cuban government. He said after investigating the affair with a detective he had vindicated Zarza in his report to the minister.

MURDER IS STILL MYSTERY

Coroner's Jury Continues Its Probing Of Death of Unknown Negro With But Little Result—A Long Session Held

It now appears that the identity of the negro found Tuesday morning beside the railroad track on the Newbern branch of the A. C. L., just beyond the city, with his throat cut from ear to ear will never be established and that his murder will go unrevenged. The coroner's jury continued its investigation yesterday, being in almost continuous session from 2:30 until 8 P. M., but while several suspicious circumstances have been explained the jury is no nearer a solution of the tragedy than when it was first assembled.

The jury adjourned at 8 o'clock last night to meet again Monday night at 8 o'clock. Meanwhile each member of the jury will continue to do detective work in an effort that some one may be found that can identify the dead negro and some clues may be found that will lead to the capture of the murderer or murderers.

Members of the jury put in a hard day's work yesterday and seemingly did everything within their power to ferret out the crime, even to going out and hunting evidence. Every possible clue was followed up, but none was found to shed any light on the affair. Yesterday morning Dr. Joseph Akerman, acting coroner, and one or two members of the jury again visited the scene of the crime. They found that the blood stains said to have been on the porch of a colored person living near whefe the murder occurred was made by blood from hogs which had been killed on the place.

The home of Ellen Wilson, who lives only a short distance from the spot where the murder was committed, was visited. A letter was found in a coat pocket hanging up in the house addressed to "Billy" Holmes and written by N. A. Lea, of Rocky Point. Holmes' name was brought into the investigation at Wednesday's session. On the morning of the crime a letter was picked up in the path of the trail of blood leading from the camp fire to the body of the negro. The letter was only a short distance from the camp fire. It was written by Rachel Murphy and addressed to U. M. Holmes. Members of the jury set out yesterday morning to find Rachel Murphey and Holmes. They succeeded. The girl lives in East Wilmington. She testified at the afternoon session yesterday and identified the letter as having been written by her. She said she had exchanged two or three letters with "Billy" Holmes, but that he had never called upon her. She had been to his house one time to see his mother. This was last Sunday was a week ago. She saw the body of the negro at the undertaker's and said she did not recognize him. Ellen Wilson is the mother of William Holmes, who is known as N. M. Holmes, "Billy" Holmes and William Horn.

Late in the afternoon the proceedings were interrupted for about an hour while Dr. Akerman and Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., assistant city attorney, went to the Wynnewood Lumber Co.'s plant, where Holmes and the two negroes who board with his mother work. All of the negroes came here from Rocky Point. Holmes, Pender Carr and Gus Williams, all young negroes, who were reared in the country have not been living in the city long, were brought back and testified before the jury.

The negroes work at the box factory. In going to and from their work they use the railroad and pass by the place where the body of the negro was found. They usually leave home about 5:30 in the morning and return about 6:30 in the evening. On Tuesday morning they left home at 5:30 for the factory. They met a train on the way and stepped out of the way. They were on the opposite of the track from that on which the body was found. They testified that they did not meet a hand car. Carr and Williams testified that they did not see anything on either side of the track, but Holmes testified that they saw something dark and bulky on the right side of the track. He said that one of the party suggested that they run, but he told them that the object they saw might be able to run as fast as they could run. He said the other two negroes were easily frightened. Holmes said that he could not expblain how the letter addressed to him came to be where it was found. He said that he never carried letters about in his pockets and the last time he saw the letter in question was more than a month ago. He has a number of small brothers and sisters and it was suggested that one of them might have taken the letter out.

Neither of the three negroes was able to identify the negro at the undertaker's nor did they recognize the razor handle found a short distance from the camp fire and exhibited to them.

Phitographs have been made of the body of the negro at the undertaker's and it is probable that the body will be buried in a few days as identification can be made about as well from the pictures.

Taken to Reformatory.

Jailer J. M. Branch left yesterday morning for Concord, N. C., taking with him Frank Mills, the 14-year-old white boy, sentenced from the Recorder's court a few weeks ago to two years at the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training School, located near Concord. Sheriff Cowan was notified Wednesday afternoon that the institution could accommodate the boy. When he was first sentenced there was no room at the institution and the boy has been kept here in the county jail. Forgery is the charge on which he was convicted and sentenced.

BASKET BALL AT THE BRIGADE

Series of Games Will Attract Large Crowds This Evening—Junior Games Yesterday Afternoon. Standing of Teams.

A great crowd will no doubt witness the basketball games at the Boys' Brigade tonight when the Eagles will play the Cardinals, the Y. M. C. A. Juniors will meet Company A and the Y. M. C. A. Seniors will play Company B.

This is the second round of these games and these promise to be even better than were the games of the first round which ended with the Y. M. C. A. Juniors and Company B tied for first place, Company A second, the Cardinals and the Y. M. C. A. Seniors tie for third place and the Eagles last. It is seldom that a league of six team is composed of players who are so evenly matched as these appear to be and if all continue to improve as rapidly as they have done during the past month some of the greatest playing ever seen in Wilmington is in store for the lovers of this splendid game. The Eagles and the Cardinals will no doubt play a better class of ball tonight than they have been doing, as both are now in better condition, this being especially true of the Eagles who have shown remarkable improvement during the past two weeks. It will be remembered that these players almost put one over on Company B recently and last week almost turned the trick on the Y. M. C. A. Juniors, the two strongest teams in the League which is pretty good for a team which was hopelessly outclassed in its first few games.

The Cardinals will play their strongest men as they are anxious to defeat the Eagles and cinch third place. The Seniors and Company B will meet for the second time tonight. It will be remembered that in their first game Company B, won easily and they hope to do so again tonight, though the Seniors are playing a better class of ball than they did at first and they will go into the game tonight with their best men with the expectation of turning the tables upon their younger opponents. It is thought that McKoy will be in the game tonight in the place of Starrett, who will be out of the game temporarily, and should this be true it is thought that the team will strike a stride which will be hard to follow. Those who claim to be wise on the game believe, however, that the star game of the evening will be between the Y. M. C. A. Juniors and Company A. The Juniors have been defeated but once this season and that was by Company B. Last wek Company A defeated Company B, the victors over the Juniors so that it is figured that Company A, being the only team able to defeat Company B, is also able to defeat the team which was defeated by Company B, which is good figuring. However, the element of luck enters so largely into a game of basketball that no forecast can be accepted too implicitly. Then again, a team has bad nights and cannot always play up to its best form. Should Company A play up to its form of last week, however, they will probably win, as no team in the league could have won against such a class of ball as they put up last Friday night. The Juniors are a great team and should Company A win it will be only after the hardest kind of playing. Regardless of which team wins, this is sure to be a game worth seeing, as both teams are fine on team work, passing and goal shooting, and many sensational plays may be looked for during this half hour. Seating capacity for about 150 people has been provided, but standing room will be at a premium long before the games begin, if the weather conditions are right. The games will begin at 8:15 sharp. Mr. Dushan will referee.

In Company C league yesterday afternoon Palmgren won from Fergus by a score of 15 to 7, while Montgomery defeated Register by a score of 7 to 5. This is the second defeat of Register this season and strangely enough both defeats were administered by the team of Montgomery, the tail enders.

Last night Class B League pulled off their series of games before a large crowd and both were good contests. Cameron continued his winning streak by defeating Fowler by a score of 23 to 12, while Gerdes put it on Walton by the close score of 20 to 19. This was an especially good game which drew forth much favorable comment from the spectators.

This afternoon in Company C League Montgomery will play Fergus and Palmgren will play Register.

FLANDERS CAR BURNED

Dr. Thos. M. Green's Runabout Destroyed Yesterday Morning.

A Flanders 20 runabout, owned by Dr. Thos. M. Green and used by him in his practice, was practically destroyed by fire early yesterday morning on Fourth, between Market and Dock streets. Before going out on the doctor's rounds of practice yesterday morning Dr. Green's chauffeur took the automobile and ran it out for a few blocks to correct some defect in the sparking. While on Fourth, near Dock street, the engine in some way caught fire and the machine was practically destroyed before the flames could be subdued. The loss is fully protected with $600 automobile insurance carried with the agency of Messrs. J. H. Boatwright & Son.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MONROE

Sad and Impressive Services From the House Yesterday

In the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends, impressive funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday from the family residence, No. 316 North Second street, in honor of Mrs. Catherine A. Monroe, beloved wife of Mr. J. W. Monroe, whose death occurred Wednesday morning in the 86th year of her age. The services wer conducted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure and Rev. H. W. Koelling, pastor and assistant pastor, respectively, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Favorite hymns of Mrs. Monroe were rendered by a special choir composed of Mrs. G. S. Boylan, Mrs. Jas. D. Smith, Mr. Greene Fenley, Mr. A. S. Holden. The hymns were, "How Firm a Foundation Ye Saints of God" and "I Would Not Live Always." Mrs. Monroe was singing the first hymn last Saturday night when she received the stroke of paralysis that caused her death.

Interment was in Oakdale cemetery and the newly-made mound was banked with beautiful floral designs, which bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by many friends. The body was laid to rest in the family lot. The monuments to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe were erected some six months ago, at their request. The inscriptions on them are complete except the date of death, a blank place being left for this. Mrs. Monroe was laid to rest in her white silk wedding gown, which she wore 60 years, nine months and 20 days ago when she and Mr. Monroe were married. It was her request that she be buried in her wedding costume.

The pallbearers were: Honorary, Dr. A. D. McDonald, Dr. A. H. Harriss, Dr. Joseph Akerman; active, Messrs. W. H. Sprunt, B. A. Merritt, H. S. Meredith, Walter Bergen, Chas. Schnibben, A S. Holden.

NO FOOTBALL SATURDAY

But a Fierce Gridiron Contest Is Promised for Thanksgiving

After repeated efforts to induce the Goldsboro High School to play the second game of a series of two arranged some time ago between that team and the Wilmington High School eleven, it was announced last night that Goldsboro will not risk a game in this city. Much interest has been centered in the game for Saturday and arrangements were partially made for the contest. The first game of the series was played in Goldsboro and on account of its crippled condition the Wilmington team suffered its first and only defeat of the season. The local team is in fine form, judging from the decisive victory over Washington last Saturday. Goldsboro, on account of its defeat by the strong Raleigh eleven and its failure to meet Wilmington without sufficient cause, thereby failing to carry out the agreement for playing two games made between the two teams, is out of the race for the scholastic championship of the State.

This scholastic honor which Raleigh has held for two seasons will be again contested for at League Park Thanksgiving Day, between the locals and the Capital City eleven. Both teams have had only one defeat this season and the fiercest gridiron battle of the year in High School circles will take place on Thanksgiving Day, when these determined warriors meet at League Park. A great deal of interest is being manifested already in the approaching match. Raleigh will try to keep up her winning streak and again capture the championship; Wilmington will go at them with an eye for retrieving herself for past defeats with Raleigh, at the same time trying to clinch the championship for herself.

Abbottsburg for Prisoner

Deputy Sheriff E. C. Reynolds, from Sheriff Cowan's office, will leave this morning for Abbottsburg, N. C., from which place he will bring back to this city for trial, a young man named Walton, charged with failing to pay a board bill as provided against in the special act of the Legislature. The warrant is from Magistrate King's court.

FINE GATHERING OF PYTHIANS

Rally In This City Last Night Concluded Series of Four Meetings In The State — Distinguished Visitors Here

Attended by Supreme and Grand Lodge officers and an outpouring of members of local lodges, a highly successful Pythian rally was held in Castle Hall last night, being the fourth and last of a series of big meetings held in as many cities in North Carolina this week. Much good has been done the cause of Pythianism by the meetings and in Wilmington and other cities where the rallies were held, it is expected that there will be splendid results in the way of increased membership as well as a rekindling of the interest of those who now belong to the order.

The meeting here was unquestionably the most largely attended and most enthusiastic that has been held in Pythian circles in many months. The presence of so many distinguished members of the order lent interest to the occasion. Col. Walker Taylor, Grand Chancellor, and Mr. James D. Nutt, Deputy Grand Chancellor, of Wilmington; Hon. Fred E. Wheaton, of Minneapolis, Minn., Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal; Capt. Thos. D. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer, of Wilmington, were the Grand and Supreme Lodge officers in attendance. They made the "swing around the State," being present at the rallies at Charlotte, Greensboro and Goldsboro, and all were enthusiastic over the future of the order in North Carolina. All four rallies were attended by Pythians from the surrounding towns and practically all returned to their homes resolved to work harder for Pythianism in the future. The result will be that hundreds of new members will be secured in this State within the next few months.

Mr. C. E. Haskett, acting Chancellor Commander, of Jefferson Lodge No. 61, called the meeting to order at 8:30 o'clock last night. The presence of the Grand and Supreme Lodge officers was announced by the Master at Arms. After the usual courtesies the officers were seated. The lodge was then opened in the Rank of Page and a large class of candidates was initiated. It was reported that the total number of candidates signed up for the order was 34. The Grand Lodge officers for the initiatory work were: Chancellor Commander, J. D. Kelly; Vice Chancellor, J. W. Smith; Prelate, Hon. Fred E. Wheaton; Master at Arms, J. F. Littleton; Inner Guard, Geo. W. Branch. All of the candidates took the obligation of the Rank of Page on the Founders' Bible. Every Pythian present had the privilege of putting his hands on the Bible used in conferring the Rank. It is the Bible that was used by the founders of the order.

At this juncture Rev. John Hollowell Dickenson, of Goldsboro, came in, he having been late on account of the delay in the arrival of the train from the North.

After the initiation ceremonies were concluded Col. Taylor was called to the chair and presided over the remainder of the session. Colonel Taylor, always a good speaker with something worth while to say, made some especially fine observations in speaking of the meetings at Charlotte, Greensboro and Goldsboro and the resultant good that is expected to the order in North Carolina. He made some complimentary references to the distinguished visitors present and then introduced Hon. Fred E. Wheaton, Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal, who is not unknown in Wilmington, having visited this city several times before. He spoke in the highest praise of the Pythians of the domain of North Carolina whom he had met at the several places visited on the present trip. He exhibited the Founders' Bible to the audience and explained its gift to the order.

Capt. Meares, of this city, Supreme Master of Exchequer, was then presented to the gathering and made a most interesting talk relative to what had been done at the Charlotte, Greensboro and Goldsboro meetings. Rev. Mr. Dickenson, Past Grand Chancellor of Virginia, of Goldsboro, well known in this city as well as other parts of this State, regarded as one of the best orators in the order in North Carolina, was introduced and made one of those addresses for which he has gained a well-merited reputation. He held the audience spellbound from the time he arose until he took his seat.

The Grand Chancellor closed the meeting with an earnest appeal to the members of the order present to show their belief and faith in the teachings of the order and its individuals and collective benefits to the membership by endeavoring to extend its influence and increase its members. Every man who believed Pythianism to be a vital uplifting force for good ought to feel impelled to offer its advantages to others, he said. Colonel Taylor said that Wilmington should have a membership of 2,000 and would have it if the present members would undertake to extend its benefits to their friends and acquaintances.

The Supreme and Grand Lodge officers arrived in the city yesterday morning from Goldsboro, where a rally was held the night before. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the visitors were taken to Wrightsville Sound, where an oyster roast was served. The visitors were shown every courtesy while here and thoroughly enjoyed their trip to Wilmington.

Lights and Bells Placed

The electric flashlights and bells to be placed at prominent corners throughout the city in connection with the new police alarm system, are now being put in, the first of these having been installed at Front and Princess streets yesterday afternoon. The bells are for the attraction of the man on the beat from headquarters in the daytime and the lights are for use at night. The first of the lights was flashed and the first of the rotary gong signals was turned in early last night, Patrolman C. G. Jones enjoying the distinction of answering the first one. It was merely a test but proved very effective.

WRECK NEAR AULANDER.

Bodies of Porter and Fireman Brought Here—Schedules Delayed.

There were no further developments yesterday in the serious wreck on the Atlantic Coast Line near Aulander, N. C., when the pay train crashed into the rear of an extra freight at the 72-mile siding, killing the colored porter, Harrison Bryan, and the colored fireman, John Samuels, both of this city, and severely, but not seriously, injuring Engineer C. M. Weathers. Engineer Weathers is in the A. C. L. Relief Hospital at Rocky Mount and Mrs. Weathers, who has joined him there, telephoned yesterday morning that he was getting along very nicely indeed. His escape from death was miraculous. The line was reported as having been cleared yesterday morning, but all trains from the Norfolk district were operated with some delay. Shoo-Fly train No. 91, due to arrive at 1 o'clock yesterday morning was annulled, but 90 went out as usual at 3:40 A. M. The bodies of the colored men who lost their lives in the wreck were brought to Wilmington for interment yesterday.

The pay train was in charge of Conductor R. L. Cobb and Engineer Weathers. The wreck occurred between stations where there is no telegraph communication. Conductor Cobb ran back to Kelford and wired for help. The freight engine was coupled to a car and the injured engineer rushed to the Rocky Mount hospital. The freight was in charge of Engineer J. S. Querry and Conductor Boney. The cause of the collision has not yet been officially determined.

DAUGHTERS AND JUNIORS ENJOY FINE COLLATION

Members of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics and of the Daughters of Liberty, the ladies' branch of the order, enjoyed a most delightful social session last night in their hall on Front, between Market and Dock streets. It was the regular meeting night of Jeff Davis Council No. 63, which was the host of the evening, George Washington Council having been host at a similar very pleasant gathering a short time ago. Refreshments were served and for the gentlemen in attendance there was a delightful smoker participated in by a large number of the Juniors.

The arrangements were in charge of a special committee composed of Messrs. E. W. Hewlett, Ed. Register, J. W. Overby, John M. Enos, E. E. Russ and J. R. Darden. They arranged everything most delightfully and all in attendance voted the affair a splendid success.

PROMINENT YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED IN RALEIGH, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 21.—One of the most fashionable weddings of the season was that this evening at 6 o'clock in the Church of the Good Shepherd when Miss Loula McDonald became the bride of Mr. Thomas Fuller Southgate, of Durham. The altar and super-altar were adorned with many candles and there were plants and other appropriate floral decorations. The church was thronged with relatives and friends, the marriage ceremony being especially pretty. Dr. I. McK. Pittinger, the rector, officiated and the bridal party included Miss Flora McDonald, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Katherine Boylan as bridesmaid; Mr. Southgate Jones, of Durham, as best man, and Mr. Archie Clark, of Durham, as groomsman. The ushers were Charles McDonald, Eugene McDonald, John McDonald, brothers of the bride, and Joseph O'Brien, of Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Southgate have gone for an extended bridal trip after which they will be at home in Durham. The bride is an especially handsome young woman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald. The groom is a well known young business man of Durham, son of Mr. J. H. Southgate. There were numbers of guests from a distance for the wedding, including Miss Douglas Hill, Durham; Miss Margie Gray, Winston-Salem; Miss Kate Gaster, Mrs. Kate Baker, Fayetteville; Miss Nell Battle, Montgomery, Ala.; Miss Nellie Fuller, Durham; Mrs. A. C. Huske, Miss Wilhelmina Huske, Wilmington; Misses Annie, Louise and Lida Vaughan, Durham, and Mrs. W. C. Troy, Waynesville, the latter being grandmother of the bride.

DAUGHTERS OF REBEKAH GIVE ELABORATE BAZAAR

Letitia Lodge No. 3, Daughters of Rebekah, of this city, the ladies' branch of Odd Fellowship, last night in the spacious I. O. O. F. hall at Third and Princess streets, gave a delightful and very elaborate bazaar which was a great success in every respect. The attendance was very large, the programme of entertainment was varied and most interesting and the ladies covered themselves with glory as did each one who had part in the most pleasing affair. The bazaar was given for the benefit of a fund which is being raised throughout the State for the installation of a much needed laundry plant at the I. O. O. F. Home at Goldsboro and it is good to know that as a result of the bazaar given last night Letitia lodge is well on towards completion of the $150 fund apportioned to it.

Mrs. John F. Littleton had general charge of the bazaar, which opened at 8:15 o'clock and continued well towards midnight, Vice Grand S. Francis Garrison, of Wilmington Lodge, I. O. O. F., was master of ceremonies and the exercises opened with a selection by the Cape Fear Independent band, which furnished music for the occasion. "Mama's Baby" was the subject of a well-rendered reading by Mrs. C. B. Davis and this was followed by a vocal duet by Miss Ruth Parker and Mr. O. E. Paderick, the accompaniment being played by Miss Mae Landen. The next and one of the most pleasing numbers of the programme was a solo by Mrs. Oscar Ellis, after which Miss Mary Hewitt delighted her hearers with a reading most effectively given. A vocal trio by Misses Bessie and Minnie Fulton and Arabella Delamar was much enjoyed by the large audience, after which the band rendered an overture and Mr. S. A. Matthews and troupe of modern minstrels took the center of the stage and manufactured fun fast and furious for something like an hour, this proving one of the big attractions of the evening. The incidental music was by the Gibson Mandolin Club, led by Mr. Walter G. Hatch. The Cape Fear band also discoursed splendid music and altogether this feature of the evening formed a fitting introduction to the revelry that was to follow with the opening of the bazaar proper.

The hall was very prettily decorated and the various booths were thrown open to the public. "The Bargain Counter" was a pleasing adaptation of the country store idea and Mrs. Sol Jones and Mrs. Jos. Tilley and their assistants found many eager and enthusiastic purchasers of various articles.

One of the prettiest booths was that of the Japanese Tea, where steaming tea and hot chocolate was served in most tempting style. This was in charge of Mrs. B. F. Brittain, Jr., assisted by Misses Hewlett and Parker.

Another pretty booth was the Fancy Work Department, which was in immediate charge of Mrs. John F. Littleton, Mrs. S. F. Garrison and Miss Mae Landen. Many pretty and useful articles were disposed of but the stock was so large that it was decided to continue the sale after 10 o'clock this morning so that all who may desire to call at the hall will find many attractive holiday novelties for sale at real bargain prices.

The Apron Booth proved most fascinating and this was in charge of Mrs. J. M. Lord, Mrs. T. G. Landen and a corpse of assistants.

The Fish Pond was a never-ending source of amusement and was presided over by Misses Gladys Parker and Bessie Fulton.

Refreshments were served generally in the hall under the direction of Mrs. A. T. Parker and a large number of assistants who endeavored to make every one feel at home and enjoy themselves.

Every member of Letitia Lodge and many members of the I. O. O. F. lodges worked unceasingly for the success of the evening and that they achieved a splendid success is attested by everyone present.

BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING LAST EVENING.

One of the most beautiful and fashionable of the several Fall weddings was solemnized at St. James' Episcopal church at 6 o'clock last evening, when Miss Marguerite Ashley Short, of Lake Waccamaw, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Garnett Tabb, of Richmond, Va. The church was very effectively decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums and the chancel was prettly lighted with candles.

Long before the hour for the wedding the church was thronged with admiring relatives and friends of the couple. There were a number present from Richmond and other cities. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, assisted by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' church. Bishop Strange is an uncle of the bride.

Miss Helen Strange, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Davis, Petersburg, Va.; Miss Martha Robinson, Miss Hester Cabell Tabb, Richmond; Miss Margaret Bridgers, Miss Florence Kidder, Wilmington. Mr. George Carey Tabb, of Louisville, Ky., was best man and the groomsmen were Messrs. J. Kent Rawley, Grayson L. Fairbank, Henry G. Ellett, P. St. George Cooke, Waller Halladay, Richmond; Mr. George Cary Tabb, Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Habliston, Richmond; Mrs. E. V. Baltzer and little daughter, Miss Annie Baltzer, Savannah, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Tabb left on the 7:30 o'clock train for Lake Waccamaw, the home of the bride. They will leave today for a trip South on their bridal tour and will be at home after January 1st, at The Chesterfield, Richmond, Va. While her home is at Lake Waccamaw, the bride is very prominent in social circles in this city and is well known throughout the State. She is a descendant of one of the old Cape Fear families, being a granddaughter of the late Hon. Oliver Pendleton Meares and daughter of the late Mr. Henry B. Short, of Lake Waccamaw. She has spent much of her time in this city with her sister, Mrs. Skelding. The groom is a son of Dr. H. Cabel Tabb, of Richmond, and is prominent in both business and social circles of that city.

The reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Skelding in honor of the bridal party was one of the most elaborate and brilliant affairs of the kind ever given in Wilmington. The attractive home was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums, bamboo and smilax, admirably carrying out the color scheme of green and white. The reception was attended by about 200 society folk of Wilmington and visitors here for the wedding. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Garnett Tabb, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Skelding, Mr. Henry Blount Short and the bridesmaids. Mrs. G. Herbert Smith presided over the punch bowl, being assisted by Miss Lucile Murchison, and the coffee was served by Mrs. Wm. Latimer. The supper was served by Demonet, the well known caterer of Washington, D. C.

The guests here for the wedding from Richmond, Va., will return this morning on a special Pullman attached to the regular train leaving here at 3:40 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Tabb will leave Lake Waccamaw today for Bermuda, where they will spend their honeymoon. Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of President-elect Woodrow Wilson, who is an intimate friend of the bride, is spending some time there with other members of the Wilson family. Miss Wilson, who was a schoolmate of the bride at St. Mary's College, Raleigh, was to have been an attendant at the wedding, before President-elect Wilson decided on the Bermuda trip for himself and family. Miss Wilson visited Miss Short at the home of Mr. A. B. Skelding two years ago and has many friends in Wilmington.

A Human Match Factory

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 483,000 matches. Phosphorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among bones, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of body requires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the food we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them.

But if stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nerve trouble—heart trouble. Pain is the hungry cry of starved organs. Put the liver, stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of health. That is just what is done by

Don't use Butter in Your Kitchen
DO you know why butter is so high? Housewives from years of habit have come to use more and more of it for particular cooking—where they want something better than lard. It's a wasteful habit—highly expensive—and wholly unnecessary.
Use butter on your table, where it belongs; discard it from your kitchen. The use of Cottolene in cooking, will give just as good results as butter. Besides, two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene will go as far as a pound of butter, and Cottolene costs no more than lard. Use more Cottolene and cut down your butter bill.
Cottolene
Makes Delicious Pastry
Cottolene makes light, flaky, crisp pie-crust. It makes deliciously light, tender doughnuts. For cake making Cottolene creams up beautifully and gives the best obtainable results. Muffins, fritters, short cake, and all other pastry, are best made when made with Cottolene. It makes food rich but never greasy.
Cottolene is a vegetable product, and makes food that is healthful and digestible.
Try This Recipe:
ONE EGG CAKE
⅓ cup of Cottolene
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon soda
2 cups flour
Rub the Cottolene and sugar to a light cream, add well beaten yolk of egg and vanilla, mix together the soda, cream of tartar and flour, stir it into the creamed mixture, alternating with the milk. Add well beaten white of egg last. Bake in shallow pan in moderate oven about one-half hour.

COTTON WEAKENS AFTER GAIN

After Making New High Ground for the Movement, Prices Fell as Result of Heavy Realizing—Advance at Close.

New York, Nov. 21.—After making new high ground for the movement the cotton market weakened late today as a result of heavy realizing and the close was easy, with last prices still showing a net advance of from 10 to 22 points on the near months, but from unchanged to three points net lower on later deliveries. January and March contracts, which not long ago were some 17 to 20 points apart, sold on even terms during today's late trading. The opening was firm, at an advance of 13 to 15 points in response to strong Liverpool cables, reports that little actual was being offered in the English market and bullish overnight spot advices. The census report, which was issued at the opening, proved about as expected, and the action of the New York revision committee in slightly increasing the penalties on a couple of the low grades also appeared to be without any special influence. But while realizing was very heavy around the initial figures, offerings were readily absorbed and following rather an unsettled and irregular middle session, a fresh flurry of covering by near month shorts sent December and January 21 to 22 points net higher during the early afternoon, while later deliveries rallied to about the high point of the morning. Later realizing became still more general, while there also appeared to be considerable selling for a turn on rumors that leading bulls were liquidating and prices eased off rather rapidly, with the close showing a reaction of from 7 to 12 points on the near months, and of 15 to 18 points on spring and Summer deliveries.

Spot closed steady. Middling uplands, 12.55; do gulf, 12.80; sales, 1,200 bales.

Futures closed steady.

STOCK MARKET IMPROVING

Prices Rise Easily In All Quarters—Amount of Trade Largest of the Week—Railroads and Industrials Strong

New York, Nov. 21.—There was a definite improvement in the stock market today, and prices rose easily in all quarters. The amount of trading, although comparatively small, was the largest of the week. A long list of stocks, including leading railroad and industrial issues, established gains of 1 to 3 points.

At the opening quotations were affected by the higher range of Americans in London, and small gains here were general. Announcement of the engagement of $750,000 gold for importation from London, favorable railroad returns for October, optimistic trade reports and the prospects for conclusion of the Balkan war seemed today to justify a more bullish impression.

The market continued to show a lack of purpose and during most of the afternoon session trading was at a low point at prices slightly below the best. In the last hour the heaviest buying of the day occurred and the market closed strong at the best figures of the session. Although the drop in foreign exchange rates, which yesterday fell to the lowest point since 1910, had indicated the possibility of gold imports, today's announcement came as a surprise, since no engagements were looked for before Monday, when the weekly offering of South African gold will be made in London. It was reported that negotiations were under way for further gold engagement.

Money rates held firm and the market made no response to the bringing in of gold from abroad.

Bonds were firm, on a broader inquiry, especially Brooklyn Transit convertible fours. Total sales, par value, $2,300,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today, 493,200 shares.

CITY PLANNING.

Conference Held at Meeting of American Civic Association.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 21.—"The building of the future city is not in our hands, but in the brains and hearts of America's children", according to a paper by Walter D. Moody, managing director of the Chicago Plan Commission, which was read at the conference on city planning held here today as a part of the sessions of the American Civic Association.

"It is not opposition which retards city betterment work in America," said Mr. Moody, "but rather it is noneducation and indifference. The solution of all the major problems of the American city lies in the education of our children to a realization of their responsibilities as the future owners of our cities. The regeneration of the American city must come from the efforts and the wills of an educated and civically enlightened citizenship.

"Chicago's efforts to educate children in city building, said Mr. Moody, had resulted in "turning out 30,000 city planning enthusiasts every year."

Real estate developing firms as an important factor in city planning, when they work upon proper lines, were the subject of an address by J. C. Nichols, of Kansas City. Mr. Nichols declared new subdivisions of a city should be developed in such a way as to safeguard their desirability as residence centers.

"Problems of city planning rest primarily upon the street system," said Joseph W. Shirley, chief engineer of the Maryland Topographical Survey Commission. "We should begin at our front doors. If our forefathers had only had the wisdom to provide a certain number of main arteries from the heart of the town to the outlying settlements, our problem for the readjustment of our street systems would have been a comparatively easy one."

He urged that American cities be "extravagantly liberal" in providing such main channels of traffic for the future.

The afternoon session of the convention today was devoted to a "symposium on capital cities", participated in by Henry B. F. MacFarland, former Commissioner of the District of Columbia; Mayor Charles Hopewell, of Ottawa, Canada, and Walter B. Griffin, Chicago, winner of the Australian competition for a design for a capital city.

The annual election of officers resulted in the re-election of all the incumbents of the principal offices. J. Horace McFarland, of Harrisburg, Pa., was re-elected president; John Nolen, of Cambridge, Mass., first vice president; William B. Howland, of New York, treasurer, and Richard Walrous, of Washington, D. C., secretary.

The British ambassador, James Brice, was elected an honorary life member of the association.

Secretary Wilson announced that the association has definitely decided to hold a civic tour of Europe, embracing all the large cities for next Summer, probably during July and August.

The convention closed with this afternoon's session.

BOOSTERS ENTERTAINED.

Greensboro Extends the Glad Hand to Philadelphians—Entertainment.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 21.—An automobile ride over the city, informal reception at the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club, general exchange of greetings and views and a mass welcome at the Southern station formed features of the several hour visit in Greensboro this morning of the members of the party forming the Fourth Annual Trade Expansion excursion of Philadelphia capitalists and business men. The special train of Pullmans reached the city at 2 o'clock this morning, but the sleepers were not disturbed until 7 o'clock, when breakfast was announced. At 8 o'clock the entire party boarded automobiles driven by local citizens and the route of the drive led by the Normal and G. F. Colleges, through the principal streets, out to the Country Club and cross country over a splendid sand-clay road to the White Oak and Proximity cotton mills and villages. The drive through the village, with its neat homes and well kept yards, was something of a revelation even to Philadelphians and many of the visitors' eyes were opened as to actual conditions in Southern mill towns.

Returning to the city the party was ushered into the spacious reception rooms of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club, where the business men of the city gathered. A short programme of speechmaking was enjoyed. On behalf of the Merchants' Association, President J. Norman Wills extended greeting while R. D. Douglas extended the good wishes of the Chamber of Commerce. The formal welcome to the city was extended by Mayor Thomas J. Murphy. Responses were made by the representative of Mayor Blankenburg, who could not make the trip and by Secretary Summerfield, of the Philadelphia Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association. Light refreshments were served and immediately the party dispersed, visitors and home folks mingling on the streets for half an hour, when the trip to the station was made. The special pulled out at 10:30 for Charlotte and intermediate points, stops being made at High Point and Salisbury.

CLOSING ARGUMENT TODAY.

Jury in Lopizzo Trial Will Take Case Saturday.

Salem, Mass., Nov. 21.—District Attorney Henry Attwill, will make the commonwealth's closing argument tomorrow in the trial of J. J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso for the murder of Anna Lopizzo in the Lawrence textile strike. He will follow W. Scott Peters, who expects to close on behalf of Giovannitti, unless Ettor, who would like to say a few words to the jury, is permitted to do so. Such an unusual procedure was deemed unlikely tonight.

The probability of the case going to the jury tomorrow night is remote, as the remaining arguments are expected to take most of the day and the charge to the jury, owing to the unusual nature of the case, will be lengthy and may not be delivered until Saturday.

Attorney Peters in his argument today for the defense characterized the charges against the accused strike leaders, Ettor and Giovannitti as "the most flimsy and gauzy ever taken into court." The charge that Giovannitti was an accessory before the fact to the killing of the woman, he said, was an outrage, and he assailed the character of the commonwealth's witnesses bitterly.

Moore, the special policeman, LaCourt, and the Bencordo brothers, private detectives who gave the most damaging testimony, he described as "scum of the earth," fearful to tell about their own past." The police, he said, "have been sitting here banked around the district attorney's table like vukures, waiting until the time when these men in the prisoners' cage by your verdict will be offered up as their victims."

"I don't say the case came crookedly to the district attorney," said Mr. Peters, "but through a destroyer of representatives to mill owners to get rid of strike leaders, hoping when they were in prison the 25,000 poor workingmen, women and children, would return to the mills again their slaves. That's the way this flimsy creature, this constructive case, was born."

QUIET IN MARTIAL LAW ZONE.

Three Men Tried by State Commission Are Given Sentences.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 21.—A calm seemed to have settled over the martial law zone of the Kanawha coal fields today and the only development in the strike situation occurred in the State capitol here, 18 miles away from the scene of the labor troubles.

Three men tried by the State military commission a few days ago were given their sentences as approved by Governor Glasscock. Joseph Raines was given a sentence of five years in the penitentiary for obstructing a passenger train and intimidating workmen. S. F. Nance was given the same sentence for having interfered with an official of the National Guard while the officer was trying to protect a citizen from a mob. Charles "Coon" Jarrell received a sentence of two years, having been found guilty of obstructing a train on Wednesday. Dan Chain, a negro, was sentenced to serve five years in the penientiary for a similar offense. The four prisoners were taken to the State penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., today under a guard of the militia. There has been practically no serious trouble since Monday either on Paint or Cabin creeks, the centers of the strike district. Cold weather is expected to bring developments of some sort. It is considered unlikely that the Federal authorities, through the grand jury, intend to take a hand in the dispute between the operators and miners.

CASH REGISTER TRIAL.

One Witness Heard and Court Adjourned Till Today.

Cincinnati, Nov. 21.—The first witness to testify in the case of John H. Patterson and 29 other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, Ohio, charged with having violated the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust act, answered one question today and during the argument that followed court was adjourned until tomorrow.

The witness, Henry G. James, an automobile dealer of Detroit, testified that he was formerly agent for the Bensinger Cash Register Company, of Chicago, in its Cincinnati office and he had left the latter company to go into the employ of the National Cash Register Company.

Arguments between attorneys for the government and the defense followed and before a ruling was made on the point Judge Hollister adjourned court. The morning session of the trial was taken up with the statements by the attorneys on both sides.

Attorney Cassett, who represented Edgar Park, one of the defendants individually, stated to the court that Park had not been connected with the National Cash Register Company after 1907, and that the time limit for prosecution under the American anti-trust act had expired on Park. As this was purely a statement to the court and not a motion, Park will be tried along with the other 29 defendants.

CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE ENDS

Feature of Closing Session Was Discussion of Mission Reports

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 21.—The 87th annual session of the Christian Church Conference of Virginia and North Carolina came to a close tonight. The 1913 conference session will meet with the Semora, N. C., Christian Church. The feature of today's session of the conference was a discussion of home and foreign mission report which called for greater contributions. The report also called upon the conference to memoralize the executive committee of the American Christian Convention "to inquire into the real causes for constantly increasing indebtedness of the mission treasury; the apparent lack of interests in missions at home and the slow progress in the foreign field.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 21.—"Bridgie" Webber, Harry Vallon, Jack Rose and Sam Schepps, the four informers in the Rosenthal case, who were released in New York today, are reported to have been passengers on the Lake Shore Limited, which passed through Albany westward bound, at 9 o'clock tonight. The four are said to be on their way to Texas.

DYNAMITER ARRAIGNED

Will Be Tried Monday For Raiding Los Angeles Police Station

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 21.—Carl Riedelbach, who invaded the Central Police Station Tuesday, carrying ecough dynamite to destroy a city block, was arraigned in the municipal court today and charged with a violation of the law which prohibits the placing of dynamite in any place where human beings congregate, with malicious purpose to kill or maim. One year to life imprisonment is the penalty prescribed.

The arraignment was the result of a decision today on the part of the authorities that none of the State hospitals for the insane has sufficient safeguards against the escape of homicidal lunatics. The preliminary hearing was set for next Monday.

Riedelbach continued today to puzzle alienists with evidences of his curious mental slants.

"Next to Lincoln, the emancipator, I am the greatest man in the world," said Riedelbach to the alienists.

"Are the papers not full of accounts of me?"

"I wanted a wife, children, home," he added.

"Had life given me all of those, I never would have thought of what I tried to do. There are many men like me."

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 21.—A kick on the head administered by his stepfather when he was 12 years old is responsible for the eccentricities of Carl Riedelbach, the Los Angeles would-be dynamiter, according to his mother, Mrs. John Warr.

Mrs. Warr explained Carl was the son of her first husband, John Riedelbach, and was born in Germany 36 years ago.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., SELECTED.

Good Roads Association Meets Next at Mountain City.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21.—Asheville, N. C., was chosen as the 1913 convention city by the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association, which concluded its two days' session here today. President Joseph Hyde Pratt, Chapel Hill, N. C., and Secretary H. B. Varner, Lexington, N. C., both were re-elected.

Vice presidents from each of the States represented in the association were elected as follows: Cyrus Kehr, Tennessee; Peter Lee Atherton, Kentucky; William Haston, Virginia; Howard Southern, West Virginia; Prof. C. M. Strahon, Georgia; Arch B. Calvert, South Carolina; Elbert C. Chambers, North Carolina, and John Croft, Alabama.

The date of the 1913 convention will be determined by the executive committee of the association, elected today as follows: P. St. J. Wilson, Richmond, Va.; Dr. C. P. Ambler, Asheville, N. C.; W. G. Sirrine, Greenville, S. C.; John Wood, Spartanburg, S. C.; Dr. A. Cheatham, Durham; Charles P. Light, Martinsburg, W. Va.; J. N. Fisher, Morristown, Tenn.; W. S. Keller, Montgomery, Ala., and S. W. McGallie, Atlanta.

At the final session of the convention resolutions were adopted condemning the "speed mania", urging the use of convict labor in road improvement work, and urging that legislation be enacted obtaining Federal aid for public roads.

REBELS TAKE POTOMAS

Capture Mexican Port of Entry After Brisk Engagement

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 21.—Rebels today took Patomas, the Mexican port of entry opposite Columbus, N. M., after two hours of brisk fighting, according to a report received at Fort Bliss, the United States border patrol.

The revolutionists assaulted the town shortly after daybreak. The Federal garrison of 1,600 men fought with spirit, but the rebels had crept close and tossed hand grenades into the outlying houses, shattering the buildings and burning the defenders in debris of the adobe huts.

The reports received by General E. C. Steever said that Captain Rossano, of the Federals, was among the refugees to the American side of the line and related the town's capture. He was unable to tell the number of dead. The rebel leader is not known, but they were believed to have been lead by Inez Salazar, who has combined various rebel groups in the neighborhood.

The Palomas-Columbus, port of entry, is a subport to the El Paso-Juarez gateway for Mexican and American customs and immigration. It is the key to the overland trails leading into the Casas Grandes district, where its possession by rebels is considered an important step toward controlling the vicinity immediately below the Mexico border.

MODIFIES ITS RULING

Commerce Commission Will Not Delay Competition of Canal

Washington, Dec. 21.—With a delay of perhaps a year in the completion of the Panama canal in prospect, unless foreign vessels are allowed to continue carrying material and supplies to the canal zone, the Inter-State Commerce Commission today decided to modify its recent administrative ruling "That shipments destined from points in the United States to Porto Rico, the canal zone, or the Philippine Islands are coastwise shipments."

The modified order will amount practically to a withdrawal of the order.

Under the statutes of this country, coastwise shipping may be carried only in American vessels. The commerce between the United States and the canal zone, Porto Rico and the Philippines now is carried largely by steamers or sailing vessels flying foreign flags.

By terms of the court's ruling shipping to the points named could be carried only in American ships.

The ruling was hailed joyously by American shipbuilders, one of whom informed the commission yesterday that it would mean the doubling of the capacity of his ship yard.

The government itself, however, and the Isthmian canal commission was thrown into a commotion by the ruling.

The matter was presented immediately to the commission with the statement that the ruling, if it should stand, would be a heavy blow to the construction of the Panama canal, delaying its completion probably for a year.
